The third buseman star of the Cleve-iand club, Bill Bradeley, who has late-ly been with the Toronto club of the Eastern league, has been offered the management of the outlaws in Cleve-land. This is putting a serious aspect on the carnestness of the outlaws. Bradeley in his prime was one of the greatess third basemen that ever lived

Bradeley in his prime was, one of the greatest third basemen that ever lived. The only man who has the right to challenge him for the honor is limmy Collins. "Brad" always was recognized as a player of exceptional cleverness, and today there are no better fielders than he. Bill could take the stars of the two major leagues right now and post them up a bit on accuracy in throwing from third station to first. The reason for Brad's leaving Cleveland for the Toronto club was a slump in his batting.

A new manager is to be appointed for the Montreal International league team this year, and the choice seems to be between Fred Tenney, who led the Boston Nationals last season, and Billy Lush, the former Yale coach.

This latter is surely an impressive word, and a word that first the belief interpreted it means that Freddie got it in the neck, without having the slightest need to call apon Bobbie Waugh for assistance. Fight promoter Tom McCarey, who was harder hit than anybody close by the blow, that is economically speaking, gives the following little song:

I am entirely satisfied that Welsh received an injury that made him physically unable to compete. He called so me Friday evening to get his regular milotiment of passes and requested me to throw in a couple of extras, as a number of personal friends wanted to see him box Waugh. hands of Mickey Whitehurst, one of the best baseball coaches in that dis-trict. On the football gridiron Harlan is said to be an even better man than he is at baseball. He was picked for the All American team and is just as clever at quarter as he is at half. Hopkins should find it a most valuable asset to have so capable an aliround man as Harlan in touch with its students for the entire year.

One factor that will enter prominently into the spring training trips, is the mineral baths. This has been one of the chief considerations in the selection of Hot Springs as a training camp for so many teams. The White Sox, Athletics and Giants have been attracted to the lone star state for their training camps largely because of the mineral waters on tap in Corsicana, Marlin and San Antonio.

Five teams will work out the kinks and tricks of rusty muscles at Hot Springs alone. Fred Clark will lubricate his Pittsburg Pirates there, Charley Dooin will take the Phillies to this spot and Hank O'Day with his Cleveland Cincinnatis and Bill Dahley with the Brooklyn's will toes the ball around in this Arkansas resort Connie. Mack is going to break the world's champs into their paces at San Antonio. Tommy Kilbane is said to have changed his mind about going to the Pacific coast for fighting engagements and will seek matches in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Canada.

Tom McCarey says that Los Angeles will soon have the bulk of the boxing champs within its borders. Johnny Kilbane, Johnny Coulon and Abe Atiell are already on the way, and Ad Woigast resides on the ground. "We will soon have all the real champs out with us except one," said McCarey, "and to that one we don't intend to extend an invitation."

Abe Attell declares that his bout with "Eneckout" Brown was strictly on the level.

"I did the best I could. I was outweighed and outpointed by a younger and stronger boy. I had all my generalship into play to try and change the verdict, but he would not fall for it, but kept tearing in all the time, he says.

"A left hand stomach punch in the fourth round took all the fight out of me, and the only thing that kept me together was my ring experience, which has brought he through many n hard battle. Jim Corbett, in sizing up the boxing situation, declared that there was not a man in sight who could stand off Johnson, unless possibly it was Palzer. Corbett makes the reservation that Palzer is extremely crude at the present time and merely has the makings. That and nothing more.

In paying his respects to the present champion Corbett served the latter a few hot shots. Here is Johnson said he, a year and a half after the awful blow at Reno, flirting around among the melancholy examples of "white hopes" and getting the softest money on record, when there are three efficient members of his own color, Langford, lickey and Jeanette, to give him a real argument. argument

"Kid" Lea, a lightweight fighter, who is well known in El Paso, is going to do some ring work in Mexico City, in February 10, where he is sluted of me, and the only thing that kept me together was my ring experience, which has brought he through many a hard battle.

"Brown is the toughest lightweight in the world today. I thought I could outbox him and get away with the decision. I was surprised when he not only out-fought me but out-boxed me in different styles. He has improved wonderfully in his boxing and fighting ability and locks like the best man in his class in the country today."

Thusly does the fighting Abe sum up his performance.

Who is wen appearing work in Mexico City, in February 10, where he is slated for the championship lightweight title of Mexico. The "Kid" will travel a 20 found mill, the winner to get $2000, and the lesser $1600.

JIMMY McDONALD VISITS EL PASO

Prize Fighter and Trainer Goes Through En Route to Coast.

Jimmy McDonald, prize fighter, trainer and one time sparring partner with such ring stars as Wolgast, Ad Moran and Freddle Welsh, and who has lately been wearing the gloves to spar with Jimmy Burns in Los Angeles, stopped over in El Paso long enough

Jimmy McDonald is taking Charlie Cavanaugh with him as an additional sparring partner for the new hope, and in the party that came to El Pase are Bobbie Waugh and Jake Burk. These two latter will remain in this vicinity for a while, sight seeling.

According to Jimmy, Tom McCarey, the fight promoter of the Pacific coast, has no hankering for staging heavy-weight finite encounters. Lightweight, and featheweight bouls, traveling 19 short fast rounds are the thing there, and the longer mills don't go. Jimmy says McCarey is considering the arrangement of a match with Sam Langford and some hope, to be staged at Los Angeles, but this is very doubtful at present.

If the hope doesn't pan out as expected, Jimmy will go on to Oklahonna City, which has just been opened to the fight game again, and arrange to take part in some matches there, as he had fought several bouts in Okla-

Philadelphia. Pa. Jack Ward, the English lightweight, was completely outclassed by Packey McFarland in their six round bout before the National Athletic club last night.

The Englishman was apparently be-wildered by the Chicago boy's speed, and in the second and third rounds he scarcely laid a glove on McFarland. In the third round in particular, McFarland smothered Ward with left labs and right swings.

In the fourth round McFarland struck Ward several times with his open glove and early in the fifth round, when he again tried those tactics, the crowd bissed and called for more action.

Toward the close of the sixth round, McFarland drove the Englishman across the ring with right swings, one prominent fixhters of the last 25 years, inculding Johnson, Jeffries, Corbett Choynski and Kaufman. He trained Johnson for his championship fight with Jeffries at Rene and was also instrumental in arranging the match and backing the negro fighter.
